- 1) This week we had an official meeting with our main client, Ted Krepos. We headed down as a team on Sunday morning to Cedar Rapids to meet with Ted and discuss about the project overview as well as asking some questions / concerns we had with the project so far. We also gave Ted a physical copy of our Project Plan.

- 2) Overall, the meeting went well. We found answers for all of our questions as well as gained a better understanding of the scope for the project.
- 3) We reviewed Ted's vision of the project as well as specifications as to what he was looking for. We also asked questions involving data transmission / the software use cases of the applications.
- 4) We also received confirmation from Jeremías to go ahead and order our parts. After talking with Ted, we found out that we need to order a couple more IMU sensors so that we would have more detailed information.
- 5) Lastly we went over future meetings. We planned for an approximate meeting time sometime near the middle of April with Ted. This is to show our progress and receive feedback on the data collected to see if it will be detailed enough.

Accomplishments this week:

07 - As a team, we headed down to Cedar Rapids. Ted cleared up and better defined the scope of the project so now all that is left is to order parts and actually get started on delivering a prototype.

- The parts list was approved by Jeremías. We should be ordering parts this week. We will have to play the waiting game till all the parts arrive. (If any parts are backordered)

Pending Issues:

07- Now that everything is set and stone, all that is left is waiting for the select parts list to come in. As stated above, most of our concerns with the project was solved from the meeting with Ted. The prototype phase of the project shall begin once the parts arrive.
